THE AUTISM OMNIBUS LAW (2014)

The 2014 Autism Omnibus Law addresses many issues faced by those with autism and other intellectual disabilities.1

- MassHealth now covers medically necessary treatments (including Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) therapies and Augmentative and Alternative Communication (AAC) devices for children with ASD under the age of 21.
- The Department of Developmental Services (DDS) has expanded their eligibility criteria to include the following persons:
  - Persons with a developmental disability defined as persons with any of the following if manifest before age 22
    - ASD,
    - Prader-Willi, or
    - Smith-Magenis syndrome, and
  - Results in “substantial functional limitations” in 3 or more of the following areas of major life activity:
    - Self care
    - Receptive and expressive language
    - Learning
    - Mobility
    - Capacity for independent living
    - Economic self-sufficiency
  - Likely to continue indefinitely.2
- The creation of tax-free ABLE (Achieving a Better Life Experience) accounts, which help families cover disability related expenses for individuals with autism and other physical and developmental disabilities.
- Special education teachers now can receive voluntary credentials and training to better educate those with ASD.
- The Department of Mental Health (DMH) and DDS will develop a plan to provide services to individuals who have both a mental illness and a developmental disability.
- The Massachusetts Autism Commission is now a permanent entity and will work to improve the lives of individuals with ASD.

CHILDREN’S AUTISM MEDICAID WAIVER (2007, 2010)

The Children’s Autism Medicaid Waiver is a program to provide intensive in-home and other services to children with autism. The program began in October 2007 and was renewed in for five years in October 2010. Families must apply for these services.

Eligible children must be: 1) Medicaid eligible; 2) ages 0-8; and 3) at risk of institutionalization now or at some point in the future. The program is administered by the Massachusetts Department of Developmental Services (DDS). At certain dates, DDS opens the application process for the program. There are a limited number of program slots.

An individualized planning process, resulting in an Autism Support Plan of Care, is used to assist each family in identifying the assessed needs of their child and the specific waiver services available to address these needs. All services have limits on their frequency and scope. Services include:

- Expanded Educational Habilitation Services which includes 1:1 behavioral, social and communication intervention services (4-8 hours per week);
- Community integration activities, respite, and family training;
- Home and vehicle modification;
- Expanded Educational Habilitation services limited to 3 years or until age 9, ancillary supports until age 9;
- Autism Support Centers and Support Brokers;
• Occupational Therapy, Physical Therapy, Speech Therapy, and Behavioral Supports and consultation (new as of Oct. 2010).4

AUTISM AND SPECIAL EDUCATION

Definition of autism

A child with autism, as defined by federal regulation, is a child with a disability eligible for special education services pursuant to the federal IDEA.5 Autism is defined in the federal regulations.6

For more information on the federal definition:

Autism IEP Act (2006)

A 2006 Massachusetts law established requirements for children with autism who receive special education services. The law requires the IEP team to consider and address in the child’s IEP certain listed needs.7
